Greeting from Principal

Dear Takians, parents, teachers and friends of LST Lau Tak Primary School,

It is my great privilege to write the foreword to our first published English Anthology. This year, our school has adopted the theme of "Let our kids shine". The belief is that every student is capable of developing a talent, and that the school will provide the opportunities for students to follow their passions, explore their strengths and build up their confidence. Therefore, this anthology contains the best pieces of English writing from all of our students and celebrates the progression of their writing skills during their time at this school.

The book contains different topics and really demonstrates the students' creativity. The children have spent a lot of time and effort on both their writing and drawing. So I hope that all the readers will get great pleasure in reading through this anthology.

I give great thanks to the students for their awesome work, to the teachers for their respective contributions, and to parents and friends for your trust and support over the years.

Kindest regards and best wishes to you all. Hope you enjoy!

Regards

Ezra Ngan
Principal

Lok Sin Tong Lau Tak Primary School

English Drama

Miss Doris Fung

Many students will step back when hearing 'English'. Like a magician, I have to wave my magic wand and make tricks and fun on learning English. Primary One students make jelly and cakes in English classes. They make masks and do show and tell. Also, they recite poems and perform on stage. What's more! They can recite a ten-minute drama with actions and perform on stage.

This year, a group of students perform an English drama through Zoom. Throughout the practice, it is Zoom as well. Incredible and unbelievable! They got a lot of awards. The conversation with the adjudicators were thrown in English.

Students, grasp the opportunities to speak English, join in speaking, story telling or writing competitions. Look around your living places, there is a lot of English. Learning English will be as easy as an apple pie. Herein, I have designed some catchy words that drive you to a deeper insight about learning English. Start to learn English with 3C:

1. Confidence: Don't be shy
2. Communication: Speak up
3. Consistency: Use English in your daily life

English Annual Activities

2021 – 2022 is a challenging year. Due to Omicron, Face to Face teaching has been suspended for more than a month. The school has to switch to online teaching and learning. In March, there is a 'Special' holiday. Although it is challenging, the English Department has successfully done two major annual events – The Thanksgiving Day in November and the Book Character Day in December.

One of the most important goals of our school is to foster students' development of positive values, attitudes and behaviours. In this school year, the school and the English team work closely together to arrange a new English activity for our students – The Thanksgiving Day.

Our students dressed up freely and enjoyed many activity booths that were designed by our NETs and English teachers. Our students also wrote 'Appreciation Card' to thank their parents, teachers and schoolmates.

In December, The English Department organized another annual event -The Book Character Day. Students dressed up as their favourite book character taking part in a 'catwalk' in the school hall. Moreover, students have done a short presentation in the class about their favourite book and character.

We look forward to organize more exciting activities in the future. See you again in the coming school year.

Good morning, Ambassadors!

By Miss Wendy Chan

This is the first year that our English ambassador team was established. No matter how tired they are, they are still engaging in the ambassador training after school every Tuesday bi-weekly. On Wednesdays, they make English announcement to remind schoolmates to speak in English during recess. Not only the ambassadors, but also the English teachers talk to students in English on specific topics. A small gift or stamp will be given to them as rewards afterwards.

On Friday morning assembly, the ambassadors appear to be extremely confident in sharing on themes such as their favourite festivals, scenic spots and tongue twisters as well. Their gorgeous performance draws students' attention with big applause too. What a wonderful experience it is to enjoy English through learning, doing and playing!

Recess Fun

By Mr. Richard

The students have enjoyed many different activities in the school. During first and second recess time, the students can go down to the English Café Room where they are free to play different games with their friends. These have included games such as charades, bingo, scrabble and Reaction. Sometimes we also use a range of puppets to do role play. The games have really helped students to expand their vocabulary and help form relationships with their peers. On Wednesdays, students can collect reward stamps for speaking more English in the café.

The school is now in the second year of the puppetry competition. A team of five students are working towards script writing, making puppets and stage props ready for the seven minute presentation. This year's video submission will be based on an adaption of the Gingerbread Man story. In the story, each student will have a character role as well as helping with stage setting during the performance. The students are thoroughly enjoying it!

The Poor Children

Once upon a time in a small farmhouse, there lived Sara and Alvis with their mother and father. They were poor and weak. Their house was old.

Sara and Alvis wanted some food but they had no money. They went to a market. They saw a woman selling bread. Alvis asked for food politely but the woman shouted angrily. Sara cried. Alvis suggested to walk farther.

Sara and Alvis found a shiny necklace. "Whose diamond necklace is this?" asked Sara. "That girl with long curly hair is looking for something. I think it's hers." "Which girl?" asked Sara. "The girl with a shiny bag and butterfly hair clips," replied Alvis.

In the end, Sara and Alvis worked in the market happily. They got money and food after working.

Honesty is the Best Policy

Once upon a time in a village, there lived Sara, Alvis and their mother and father. They were poor because their house was old.

Sara and Alvis wanted some food but they had no money. They went to a market. They saw a woman selling apples. Alvis asked politely, "Would you please give me some apples?" "No way!" said the woman. Sara cried. Alvis suggested to walk farther.

Sara and Alvis found a diamond necklace. They didn't know who it belonged to. "Whose diamond necklace is this?" said Sara. "That girl with long straight hair is looking for something. I think it's hers," answered Alvis. "Which lady?" asked Sara. "The girl with a crystal bracelet," answered Alvis.

Sara and Alvis gave the necklace to the princess. They became friends and the princess had dinner with them. Then they packed the food and took it home. They felt very happy.

They learnt that they should be honest.

Friendship

Once upon a time, a girl named Sara and a boy named Alvis lived in a small farmhouse with their parents. They were poor and their clothes were old and torn. The old shabby farmhouse they were living in was small and the bricks started to crumble.

One day, Sara and Alvis wanted some food but they had no money. They went to a market and they saw a woman selling apples. Alvis asked politely, "Would you please give me some apples?" The woman shouted at them angrily, "No way!" Sara cried. Alvis suggested to walk farther.

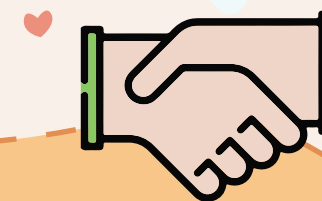

Suddenly Sara and Alvis found a necklace on the floor. Alvis asked, "Whose necklace is it?" Sara answered, "That girl is looking for something. I think it's hers." Alvis was quite confused and asked, "Which one?" Sara pointed to a girl, "The girl who is in a pink dress." They looked at the girl for a while and they eventually realized that she was in fact a princess.

Sara and Alvis gave the necklace to the princess. The princess was very happy when she got the necklace back. Sara and Alvis became the princess' friends.

Sara and Alvis learnt the importance of friendship.

Dear Bobo,

I am so excited to hear you are coming to Hong Kong next Wednesday for two days.

I will take you to Tin Hau Temple. I know that you like to take photos of old relics. Tin Hau Temple is in Causeway Bay. We will go there by MTR. After getting off at Causeway Bay MTR station, we will walk for 5 minutes. Then you will be able to see the rock lions and a bell. You can take photos inside. You can also shoot photos outside at the entrance.

On the second day in the afternoon, I will take you to Kowloon Walled City. We will go to see the Garden features. We will see sculptures and a moon gate. The place tells us a lot about the history of Hong Kong. The Kowloon Walled City was built in 1847. It is a three-hall, two courtyard building with grey bricks and tiled roofs.

I would like to meet you at Causeway Bay MTR station at ten o' clock. Then we will walk there together.

A healthy Snack

My family usually celebrates Father's Day in a restaurant. Due to COVID-19, we plan to stay at home. We intend to make a difference. Dad always eats a lot of unhealthy foods because he is always very busy. Also, he usually eats outside. So, I want to make some healthy food for him this year.

Recently, I read in a cookbook about how to make healthy food. I will make Apple Boat for my dad. I am not experienced so I will learn more from YouTube. I search from Google too. This Sunday, I will go to the supermarket. I need an apple, a box of toothpicks and a watermelon. They are the ingredients and tools for Apple Boat.

Making the Apple Boat sounds easy. Mum will help me because she is free. First, I will clean and rinse all the ingredients. Then I cut the apple into half. After that, I put a toothpick in the middle of the apple. Next, I cut the watermelon into a triangle shape with a knife. Finally, I place the triangular watermelon on the toothpick to make a sail. I need to do it carefully.

This party food is healthy. It is made of healthy and juicy fruit. I think my dad will like it very much. I am longing for the day to come. I am so excited now.

The School Lunchbox

The lunch box service in our school is not quite good. There is not much variation. There is also not enough healthy food.

First of all, there are not enough dairy products. There is no milk, cheese or yoghurt. Without dairy products, our bones and teeth are not healthy. Moreover, there is not enough fruit. After the pandemic, the catering company stopped putting fruit in our lunch box. I think they should consider putting in fruit so that our body can get the required vitamins and minerals. What's more, there are too many grain products too! It is good to have grain products, but rice and noodles have carbohydrates which make us fat.

The food does taste quite good but there are a few dishes I like. These include the curry, dim sum and the glutinous rice. For the rest, they are quite bland. There is almost no variation. There cannot be meat without sauce. There are options but they are almost all the same throughout the year. Sometimes, they put in too much sauce. It is sticky and it does not look good. The colour of the sauce also may seem unappetizing.

Here are my suggestions

1. They should give us food with dairy products like cheese or yoghurt. They could put some cheese on top of the grain products or meat.
2. They should lower the quantity of grain products in the lunch box.
3. They should also serve some non-sauce dishes such as soup noodles or rice with chicken.
4. They should reduce the amount of sauce that is in the lunch box.

I hope with these suggestions, the catering company can further improve our school lunch box service and make the food be healthier and tastier.

My Hobbies

I like outdoor activities best and my favourite hobbies are football and online games. I like playing football with my father and my brother. We like playing football in the football field in our backyard. We sometimes have football matches in a football field.

I am a normal girl. A lot of people think that I prefer indoor activities. They are wrong! I never play barbie dolls or cooking kits. My father is a huge fan of Arsenal. When I was six, he often had football matches in the football field. Now, I have joined the school football team. When I was young, I always sobbed when I fell. Now I seldom cry. When I run, I feel like I am a leopard.

One day, I played football with my father in a football field. I nearly fainted under the hot sun. I lay on the ground and prayed for rain. Then raindrops fell all over the field. I rolled on the mud. It was relaxing.

Frog Prince

A long time ago, in a far away land, there lived a princess. The princess was the prettiest. From the time she was a baby, anyone who saw her praised her appearance.

On one special day, the king of a neighbouring country sent a gold ball to the princess. This was the only gold ball in the world.

The princess thought that she was the most beautiful person in the world. He did not know that she disliked anything that was ugly and only liked what looked pretty and tasted good.

The princess who had no friends always played alone in the palace lawn with her ball. "If only I had a friend to play with this ball, how nice it would be." Since she was so lonely, she talked to herself. "Play ball with me. Play ball with me."

The princess looked over to where the voice came from. There was nobody there. "Who is it? Would you like to play ball with me?"

The only thing that the princess discovered was an ugly frog who lived in the palace as well. The ugliest and the dirtiest frog appeared in front of the princess. "The most beautiful princess, I will be happy to play with you." said the ugly frog.

"My goodness! How can this ugly frog think of playing ball with me?" the princess went into the palace angrily. The frog was left alone once again.

A Poor Family

Once upon a time, in a small village lived a poor family. They lived in an old and shabby house. Dad and Mom were both very sick. They had a son and a daughter. Their names were Fiona and Sara. They didn't know what to do. They had no food or money. They were in pain.

The next day, Sara and Fiona were hungry. They wanted some food, but they had no money. So, they decided to go to a food market to beg for food.

They could smell some delicious food. They saw a fat lady selling juicy apples. They went up to her to beg for food. They said "Could you give us some fruit?" "Go away!" the woman shouted back at them rudely.

The siblings walked along the street tiredly to look for food. Suddenly, they found a beautiful golden necklace on the sandy floor. Fiona picked it up and looked around and asked, "Whose golden necklace is this?" Sara replied, "That lady is looking for something. Maybe it's hers." Fiona asked, "Which lady?" Sara said, "the lady with the wonderful round face and beautiful curly blonde hair."

Sara went to ask the lady, "Is this golden necklace yours?" The lady said, "Yes, it's mine, thank you!" In the end, the lady invited the two kids home for dinner to repay them for their kindness.

My Hobbies

I like outdoor activities best and my favourite hobby is playing tennis. I always play tennis with my sister and cousins on holidays. We like playing tennis in the park underneath our flat. We sometimes have card games in the garden too.

I am a girl. Most people think that I like girl games. They are wrong. My dad is a big fan of famous readers. When I was five, he often read books with me. Now I know a lot of vocabularies. I am quiet at times.

One summer, I played tennis with my mum in the park. I nearly fainted under the hot sun. Suddenly, a racket fell on mum's head. We both felt dizzy.

The Siblings Found Food for a Living

Once upon a time in a village, there lived on a farm a family. They lived in a small house. Both Dad and Mum were very sick. They had a son and a daughter. Their names were Sara and Alvis. They were worried because their parents were dying. They were in pain; they didn't know what to do.

The next day, Sara, and Alvis were hungry. They had no money. So, they went to a food market. They could smell some tasty food. They saw a fat lady selling apples. They went up to beg for food. They said, "Could you give us some food?" "Go away!" said the fat lady.

The siblings walked along the streets tiredly to look for food. Suddenly, they found a sparkly pearl ring on the ground. Alvis picked it up, looked around and asked, "Whose ring is this?" Sara replied, "That princess is looking for something. Maybe it's hers." Alvis asked, "Which woman?" Sara said, "The woman with the beautiful face and the beautiful hair."

Sara and Alvis gave the ring back to the woman. The woman thanked them and gave them a job. They worked hard. Every day, they could buy some food. They no longer felt hungry.

The Honest Kids

Once upon a time, in a small farmhouse, there lived a poor family. They lived in an old house. There was a father and a mother who had a son and a daughter. Their names were Sara and Alvis. Their father and mother were very sick, so they could not work to get money.

One day, Sara and Alvis were hungry. They smelt some delicious food! They ran towards the smell. There was a woman at the food stall. Alvis said, "Can you give us some bread, please? We are hungry." "No! Go away!" The woman shouted rudely and drove them away.

After that, when Sara and Alvis went home, they saw a sparkling diamond ring on the ground. They picked it up. They looked around, "Whose ring is this?" "That's mine, thank you! You're honest!" said a lady in beautiful clothes gratefully. She gave Alvis and Sara a lot of money!

In the end, Sara and Alvis bought some medicine for their sick parents. Their parents felt better. After a few days, they could go back to work.

A Memorable Charity Walk

Last Monday, my English teacher, Miss Chan told my class that there will be a charity walk in Saturday. The charity walk will help children in China. I will join the charity walk with my best friends.

On Saturday morning, I went to Hong Kong Science Park with my classmates. We went there by bus. We arrived there at nine o' clock. We talked happily during the walk. It was a hot day so I drank water all the time. Suddenly, there was no water left. What should I do?

My best friend, Jason saw me looked at my water bottle. He knew I ran out of water. He came directly to me and taught me the way to a convenience store. My friends waited for me. I quickly bought a bottle of water there and we finished the walk. At the end, I was very happy as I learnt that friends are very important because they are always there to provide help.
