Chinese New Year

During Chinese New Year, I went to the flower market with my mum and dad. I visited my grandparents and got red packets from them. I ate sweet dumplings and rice cakes. I felt happy. 😊

ENGLISH TEACHER'S COLUMN

Talking about the most impressive experience of February, I would like to say that it was the Primary Five project learning - At the Airport. On Valentine's Day, the school hall was transformed into the departure hall of the airport. All our P.5 students took turns acting as flight attendants and customs officers to monitor the departure procedures for the passengers.

Of course, some P.5 students acted as passengers too. Everyone had their own mock passport and boarding pass. They had so much fun that day!

This activity not only integrated the learning tasks into life situations, but also included the four elements of reading, writing, listening and speaking. Indeed our students can learn English easily and joyfully through this authentic activity.
